King Albert has arrived in Bruges. The Belgians who reached the Dutch border are said to have destroyed the frontier barrier.

Eecloo is between Ghent and Bruges, seven miles from the Dutch frontier.

Evacuation of Antwerp by the Germans has been begun and U-boats that were trapped by the allied rush are being sent back to Germany overland, according to a correspondent of the Daily Express on the Belgian frontier.

The warehouses at Antwerp are being stripped and at least thirty-five submarines are being sent on trains toward Germany.

Before the Germans evacuated all of the Flanders coast the Solway poison gas factory and enormous quantities of ammunition were blown up by shellfire.

PROF. HOFELD IS DEAD IN ALAMEDA

Professor Wesley Newcomb Hofeld, the most distinguished lawyer and student of jurisprudence in the United States, died yesterday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sidney Haslett, in Alameda after an illness of a few weeks. A month ago Dr. Hofeld became ill in New Haven, Conn., and was ordered by his physicians to the coast. He was brought to Alameda on a stretcher and has been gradually sinking for the past three weeks.

Dr. Hofeld was the medalist in the class of 1901 from the University of California and three years later took the highest honors when he obtained his sheepskin from the Harvard Law school. He returned to San Francisco to become associated with the law firm of Morrison, Dunn & Erbeck. Later he was called to Stanford University where he remained seven years as professor of law. He was called to the chair of jurisprudence in Yale four years ago. He was known throughout the United States for his brilliant attainments.

Dr. Hofeld, who was 39 years old, was born in Oakland. He is the son of Edward Hofeld and Mrs. Rosa Hofeld and brother of Clarence and Edward Hofeld, Mrs. Sidney Haslett and Mrs. Walter R. Hughes. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Haslett.

HOW ALLOTMENTS WERE MADE COMMITTEE EXPLAINS SYSTEM

During the strenuous Liberty Loan campaign just closed several thousand letters were sent to various citizens of Oakland apportioning the sum they were expected to subscribe. The question has been asked many times as to how the committee arrived at its conclusions and on what basis the allotments were made.

Feeling that everyone interested is entitled to an answer, we desire to make the following statement:

We consulted the assessment records of this city for property holdings and utilized all available means for estimating incomes. We called on many business men requesting information; got ratings from the various commercial agencies and interviewed personal friends of those whom we considered well able to subscribe.

No information was given out by the banks, as we were plainly told by them they could not violate the confidence of their depositors.

Ninety-five percent of all the allotments were met without question. Some irritation has been caused through over-zealousness and lack of diplomacy on the part of a few workers, and in some cases errors have been made, but as Oakland has so signally gone "over the top" we are sure that those who feel aggrieved will overlook any unintentional injustice on account of the result attained.

JOHN P. MAXWELL, Chairman Allotment Committee.

LECKIE WILL GIVE $100 EACH TO SONS

Leaving only $100 each to his four sons and containing an explanation that his liberal provision for them in the past "has not been appreciated," the will of the late William S. Leckie, brother of Robert S. Leckie, president of a local title insurance company, was filed for probate today. Leckie died in Agnews state hospital, October 8.

The four sons spoken of in the will are Walter, James, William and Robert Leckie. The remainder of the estate, valued at over $500,000, was left to the widow, Mrs. Mary S. Leckie, who has applied to Judge Dudley Kinsell for letters of administration. The family home is at 1414 Broadway.

Oranges, Lemons Leap in Prices

Oranges and lemons, which have been recommended by physicians as an effective aid in checking the spread of Spanish influenza, have advanced in price within the last few days as much as $4 a box for the best variety of oranges, and numerous complaints are being made. For the reason of the sudden upward tendency, wholesale commission men state that increased demand has necessitated an advance in price.

Order Numbers to Soon Be Assigned

VILLAGES IN CELEBRATION OF FREEDOM

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sunday Oct. 20 (By the Associated Press).—Roubaix and Tournai today celebrated their deliverance from the enemy. The people of the two cities were wild with emotional joy. There were kisses, hugs and hand-shakes for every British soldier. There was good reason for Roubaix and Tournai to celebrate. The swashbuckling Germans had gone, though they left in their wake as much ruin as they could do. Nearly every home in the city had been sacked and things that could not be carried away were destroyed.

Piqued at being forced to leave the town, the Germans went to extreme lengths to defile, destroy and steal. Roubaix and Tournai were savagely and systematically burglarized. In Roubaix the Germans cut fine leather seats from chairs, ripped pictures from their frames and even took the cloth coverings of mattresses. Apparent as it went through the idea of seeing how thoroughly they could wreck the town, in many places they deliberately destroyed everything they could lay their hands on.

For miles around Roubaix and Tournai, the countryside has been singed and scorched by the red heat of war. Bombs, machine guns, rifles, pieces of shell, barbed wire and the bayonets and other equipment of soldiers are scattered all about. There are miles of mangled fields, where the shell craters are so thick that it is impossible to tell where one begins and the other leaves off. Here and there are old concrete and dirt. The trees are leafless and many have been chewed to pieces by flying shells and bullets.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Scenes of happiness at Bruges eclipsed those at Lille after the liberation of the two cities, according to the correspondent of the Daily Mail. During the occupation of Bruges by the Germans the people there were not allowed to receive news from the outside world, unless the news was handled by German officers. The correspondent writes:

"When the only woman left in Bruges was told of deeds of Americans in France, she cried with happiness: 'Oh, if I had only known that.'"

Bruges was fined enormous sums on various occasions, the correspondent says, and everything made of metal was taken away.

The city was searched four times for copper. The works of Bruges were robbed of every scrap of machinery. The town itself is intact. The most of the people remain in the gallery and Bruges seems to be as restful as in the old days, except that all the bridges are gone.

Each was fined $5000 and a co-conspirator, E. J. Davis, was ordered to pay $2500 for bringing 168 lbs. of opium into California. The two men are attempting to ship the opium to the Lillia Grocery Co. of Honolulu on April 29. The case was prosecuted by special assistant to the attorney general John W. Adams and by U. S. Attorney Annette A. Adams and William B. Tidwell, special agent of the Treasury Department, who has been promoted to New York office, leaving here Wednesday.

Aviator Duncan Escapes From Foe Camp; Recaptured

(By Associated Press) GENEVA, Sunday, Oct. 20.—Lieutenant Duncan, the American aviator, who with a companion, landed in the Jura Alps a month ago and was interned, made a bold but futile attempt to escape from the internment camp at Andermatt Wednesday night. He made a rope with bed clothes and slid down the wall around the barracks, but when he was some distance from the ground the rope broke and Lieutenant Duncan was badly injured.

He continued his attempt to escape, however, and walked in the direction of Goeschenen. His escape was discovered almost immediately, and the alarm was sent out. There is a long tunnel between Andermatt and Goeschenen, and when the aviator emerged from it he was arrested. He was taken back to Andermatt and the guard at the camp was doubled.

HAIG PRAISES GALLANTRY OF U. S. TROOPS

WITH THE ANGLO-AMERICAN FORCES EAST OF LI CATEAU Sunday, Oct. 20 (By the Associated Press).—American forces fighting beside the British armies have made a total advance of thirteen miles in the last six days of battle in this sector.

Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig, commander-in-chief of the British armies in France, has sent the following letter to the general commanding the American troops:

"I wish to express to you personally and to all officers and soldiers serving under your warm appreciation of the very valuable assistance and gallant services rendered throughout the operations of the Fourth British Army."

"Called upon to attack positions of the greatest strength, held by a determined enemy, all ranks of the Twenty-seventh and Thirtieth Divisions under your command have displayed an energy, courage and determination which has proved irresistible."

"It does not need me to tell you that under fighting the last three weeks you have earned the lasting esteem and admiration of your brother comrades in the army whose successes you have so nobly shared."

SHELL HOSPITALS AND AMBULANCES

By BERT FORD, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 20 (delayed).—German artillery stations, firing hospitals and ambulances in the fighting area northwest of Verdun. Some of the wounded doughboys said they felt in ambulances going back from the firing line.

Sergeant Herbert Huff of Philadelphia, formerly a shipping clerk, but now in the ambulance section, came in from the Argonne forest district smeared with mud and his eyes red from lack of sleep, but enthusiastic over the fighting spirit of the Americans. He said:

"The boches shelled dressing stations at the front and also field hospitals near Mont Faucon, killing some of our wounded with shrapnel. We had to shift all of the litter cases to zones of safety."

"The shell was extremely lively and some of our wounded doughboys said that they felt safer in the front line than on the roads the ambulances had to come over. Some of our drivers had all sorts of adventures. Proof of the hazard of ambulance work is shown by the fact that our section lost ten ambulances from the shellfire since the battle on the Marne."

"Albert Armstrong of Duluth, Minn., aged 21 and a student, was one of the bravest of the crew. He was blown off the road in his ambulance one day. He was a regular daredevil and no road was too dangerous for him to face."

"Charles Waterhouse of Germantown, near Philadelphia, was another game one. He did not know what fear meant. He drove his car anywhere. One day while Waterhouse was in a dressing station talking with his patients a shell struck his ambulance and burned it up. Shortly afterward Waterhouse was killed by a direct hit from a shell."

"The gang missed him greatly. Charles was a great cook and could turn out more tempting dishes than the professor of a cooking school."

Miss Perkins Will Nurse At Camp Fremont

The Misses Ethel and Ruth Perkins, two of the younger girls who have engaged in war work for some time, are to go in training as nurses at Camp Fremont, having received orders to be ready to report for duty at any day, when the call shall have come for them to continue their course of training. Both have already taken the emergency 3 in 1 shot, and are anticipating the day when they will leave for scenes of actual service.

Mrs. George Baker Jr. has received her nurse's shopkin from Washington and is ready for overseas service, where her husband is already serving his country.

The engagement of Miss Rosella V. Gardner, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Gardner, formerly of Oakland, and Robert V. Gardner, of the Ordnance Department, U. S. A., at Washington, D. C., and a former Berkeleyan, has just been announced by the bride-elect.

News of the betrothal was broken informally to intimate friends at a meeting of the Union Camp Club, held at the home of Miss Grace Gould in Alameda, last week. Those who were guests were Miss V. Gardner, Miss Helen Sturtevant, Miss Anita Henshaw, Miss Elizabeth Henshaw, Miss Helen Henshaw, Miss Violet Marshall, Mrs. Cecil Beale (Lorene Pennell), Mrs. L. Verne Henshaw (Marie Green) and Mrs. Russell Rogers (Daisy Green).

In honor of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huntington of Piedmont, formerly of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Starr are to be host and hostess at an informal dinner gathering at their home on Thursday evening.

Captain Homer Clarke Poundstone and his fiancée, Miss Helene Bon, members of an informal luncheon group at the Hotel Oakland, the week-end, will be married at the home of Mr. Frank Edoff and one or two others.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bates spent the week-end at Del Monte to remain for several days. A number of country homes have been opened during the week-end.

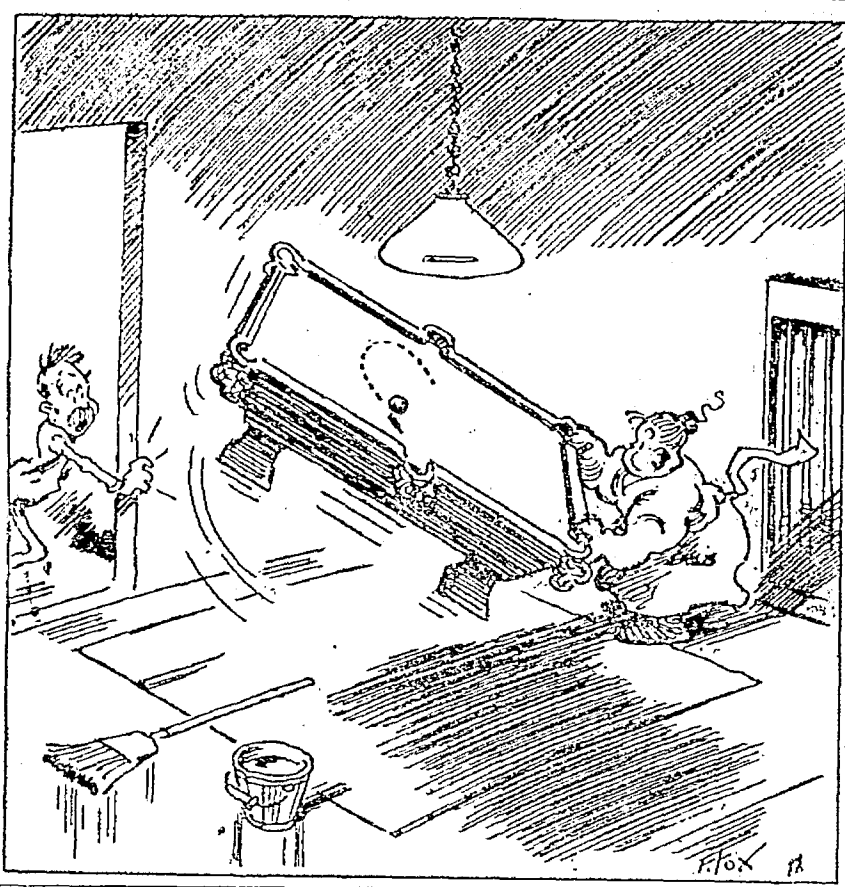

A commission of Captaincy in the engineering department of the army has just been received by Mr. J. W. Worcester Nordwell and in a few days he will leave for an eastern post.

Captain Nordwell and his bride (who until her marriage last month was Miss Elsie Carney) recently returned from Carmel-by-the-Sea where they spent their honeymoon. Mrs. Nordwell is to remain at the home of her parents in Kingston avenue, for the present uncertainly, as more definite plans are formulated.

Mrs. John E. Goody, who is being extensively entertained as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Georgia Willard, in her home, has written to several of her friends in Oakland that she intends to spend several weeks in the East before returning to her home in Fruitvale. Mrs. Goody recently gave up her home on Orange avenue and Twenty-fourth street and will probably take an apartment on her return.

After five weeks' visit in Stockton, Miss Rowena Martin has returned to her home in Oakland. In that city she was the house guest of Miss Harriet McGinn. Miss Louise Martin, an elder sister, is engaged in study for war work.

Mrs. R. C. Nuttal of Salt Lake City will visit with Mrs. V. G. Hammond, who is en route to Los Angeles to spend a fortnight. Mrs. Nuttal will then return to Oakland, when she will spend a week at the home of Mrs. Hammond in East Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Rawling plan to spend the winter in Oakland. They have been making their home in Lima, Peru, for a number of years. They will arrive in the bay section shortly before Christmas.

We Must Do All We Can to Help Win the War

Important Notice

A year ago, at the instigation of the National Council of Defense, the retail stores were obliged to change their methods with reference to deliveries, return of merchandise and in other ways.

Realizing the necessity that forced the change, customers co-operated cheerfully in carrying out the government's policies.

As the war makes further demands on the resources of the country in order to make ultimate victory certain, it is confidently expected that a continuation of this co-operation will be granted.

The State Council of Defense has adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, that we discourage the giving of useless or extravagant Christmas presents, and urge early Christmas shopping; and that all gifts by mail or express be started to destination not later than November 30th."

The above resolution was made necessary owing to the increased requirements of material and labor for war purposes which make it essential that Christmas gifts (except for children) be confined to useful articles.

Under the operation of the extended draft for the army, it will be impossible for the stores to give their customary service during the month of December. You are therefore urged to commence your holiday shopping at once, aiming to finish in November.

Shop in the mornings, when possible, and distribute the drain on service resources. Carry small packages—return as little merchandise as possible—and remember the FOUR-DAY LIMIT for its return.

Avoid C. O. D. purchases if possible. Bring all returnable goods with you and in good condition. All of the above things are essential items—just as the saving of a slice of bread, or a cube of sugar—for the successful conduct of the war.

All transportation facilities being largely used for the movement of war materials, it may be necessary for the government to curtail or stop the mailing and expressing of private packages at an early date.

The Struggle

By ZOE BECKLEY.

THE LANDLORD OF ARCADIA INN.
Outside orders for Edith Ferrol's homemade jams, bread and cakes began to come in so plentifully that Edith found herself confronted with an embarrassment of riches. After all, the time she could devote to working for money was not unlimited. Her own part of her time, than they did in the city, where servants were easier to get and keep, where there was no furnace to tend, no small garden to take up, where a word over the telephone brought to hand everything from a paper of pins to an extra chop inside half an hour. So long as Edith's effort to supplement their income by cooking, baking and preserving for outsiders took up her spare time only, her only problem was to get enough orders to fill up the time she had to spare.

Now, however, that orders took up all her time, she faced the problem of elimination, always difficult when the things to be given up are no less desirable than those to be retained. There was, of course, no question of cutting down on the time her home required of her, although were servants available in Arcadia she would have been enabled to do so with justice to her home.

She would have to let some of the orders go. But if she did, she would lose customers whose orders she might drive off to some competitor—which was bad business. For competitors had already appeared in Arcadia, attracted by Edith's bit of success. So when a widow whose income was insufficient for her to live on. The other was the new landlord at Arcadia Inn, which stood at the crossroads a mile out of Arcadia. The widow, Mrs. Simpson, had been going around the neighborhood offering to make jams, cakes and pies for less than Edith charged. The landlord at the inn had sent out circulars that he, too, was prepared to furnish "homemade" country sweets at cost—just to put the Arcadia Inn on the map.

Edith felt she could not afford to lose any of her customers. Her small advertisement in the Tribune was already teaching her the rudiments of business. So she filled all the orders she got by cutting down on some of her rest time and speeding up her day's work.

The result was not long in coming. She became overworked and nervous. John remonstrated with her. The child-play like she used to be, Edith began to see that she was paying too much for what she was getting. After all, cooking, baking and preserving was bringing her no more than a good cook would earn. It would be better to hire out as a cook or neglect her home. That was practically what she was doing.

She had worked herself into that nervous state in which decision is the hardest thing to make. It looked to her as though she would have to yield to John's view of the situation—and John wanted her to give the business up altogether. But the bit of economic independence she had developed meant to her even more than the money she was making. It gave her a sense of new power, new and broader vistas, interests. She could not bear to give them up. Yet—she could not keep them up.

In the midst of her agony of indecision small Jack announced that "a red-headed man" wanted to see her. At the front door she found a red-headed, coarse featured but kindly looking man in a somewhat pronounced city clothes of sporting pattern.

"Good day, Mrs. Ferrol," he said, taking a brown velvet hat off his head and saluting. "I am Cleary, landlord of Arcadia Inn. I've been a competitor of yours in the way of supplying—or, say, catering—to supper at Arcadia, with jams, cakes and such, homemade in my hotel, ma'am. I say, I've been a competitor of yours. But, ma'am, I'm modern. I'm in my business methods and I believe in the cash system. I've got a plan for you and me to combine in business with benefit to us both. In short, ma'am, you've got the brains and the skill and I've got the machinery—two chefs with long time on the hospital. Now, I propose that you put in a couple of hours a day bossing my chefs—not doing the mere drudgery as you have to do now—but supervising. And we'll clean up and divide fifty-fifty. What do you say?"

LET'S HELP GO: DOES OWN WORK

Mrs. Tobolt Astonished at Results of Tanlac; Gains Twenty Pounds.

"Some wonderful things happen in this world, and the way Tanlac has restored my health and built me up is one of them," said Mrs. Paul Tobolt of 916 California, Bufile, Mont. In one of the most interesting and remarkable statements yet published in connection with the Master Medicine.

"My trouble started about two years ago," she continued, "and I have simply been a nervous wreck since until now. Last January I went to the hospital where I was told that my whole system had become poisoned by an affected appendix, that an operation was my only salvation; was the only thing that would save me. So I arranged to have my children cared for in case I should not see them again, and submitted to the operation. Well, the operation was done with so much skill, and I was so carefully nursed that I finally got out of the hospital, and was home with my husband and children. When I picked up wonderfully for a little more than a month when I began having terrible pains in my lower back and my legs. My appetite left me, and nothing tasted right. I was constipated, had fearful headaches and my weight dropped. I could hardly sleep. I fell off until I weighed less than a hundred pounds and was so weak that I was an effort for me to get about at all.

"Finally my husband suggested that I try Tanlac, as it was being so much talked about, and the results have astonished us both. I couldn't see much improvement in my first bottle, but with the second my appetite got better. I commenced to feel improved and was surprised when I got to the scales, to find that I had gone up to one hundred and eight pounds. Well, the third bottle did wonders for me, relieving me of all pain and headache and making me want to eat up everything. I now weigh one hundred and eighteen pounds—making a gain of more than twenty pounds in three bottles—and I'm wondering what my fourth bottle will do for me. I sleep like a healthy child, never waking at night at all and feel like I could eat five or six meals a day. I dismissed my hired help, four weeks ago, after eighteen months' steady service, and since then I have done all my own housework, cooking and everything. I have no more of those bad feelings and life is a pleasure to me. I can't praise Tanlac enough for what it has done for me."

"Same Oakland But Different"; Film Star Revisits Home

EARLE WILLIAMS, former Oakland boy and TRIBUNE man, who's just returning from the East, where he carved out international fame as a film star. He was "at home" at The TRIBUNE office today.

TEST SUIT TO DECIDE PAY RAISE

The controversy between City Auditor J. H. Clay and City Attorney H. L. Hagan concerning whether the city council can legally give each member of the fire department $120 a year in addition to the regular salary will be decided in court. A deadlock on the matter has resulted from both city officials sticking fast to their own interpretation of the city charter, and the city council decided today that the only way to settle the question was by a friendly suit.

The sum of $25,000 a year in the city payroll is involved. Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead found that he was losing some of his best men because the charter limits the salaries that can be paid, and living expenses and wages have increased since the charter was adopted. The council decided to meet the situation by paying the men $120 a year more, the extra money being presumed to be used to purchase uniforms.

City Auditor Clay refused to audit the first claim of $60,000 presented under the ordinance, holding it to be a subterfuge to pay higher salaries than the charter provided. The council today passed the claim over the auditor's rejection, and instructed Hagan to bring a friendly suit at law to determine the matter.

Earle Williams, Former Oakland TRIBUNE Man, Changes Map and Meets Friends.

"Same good old Oakland—except for the tall buildings and the Spanish flut!"

So says Earle Williams, famous "movie" star, who was once a TRIBUNE man. Earle Williams arrived here today, en route to his new studio in Los Angeles. He came back to The TRIBUNE where he worked as a youngster, but to a new TRIBUNE—new building, new plant—and with the exception of a few new faces. He spent the morning looking over the plant; sat in with "Kek," the artist at noon, and changed the war map, while a crowd packed the street to watch him.

"I'd have made a speech," said Williams, "and have told them how glad I am to be home again, and how nice it is to hear that Oakland went over the top in the bond drive—but we mustn't make speeches nowadays with influenza danger around."

So he waved his hand at the crowd and "registered" the famous Earle Williams smile through the plate-glass window.

Williams arrived from his Eastern studio, stopping over to visit his brother, Don Williams, a veteran TRIBUNE man and prominent in Oakland business circles. He is going to Los Angeles to make his headquarters.

And one of his reasons for visiting The TRIBUNE is that he is planning to use the big newspaper plant for a new newspaper play that he's soon to produce. Watch for it!

BECAME THIN AND WEAK FROM LACK OF BLOOD

If your blood is not fortified against the multitude of disease germs that surround us, you risk being a prey to sickness. You may not be able to put in a good day's work without a constant feeling of exhaustion.

The experience of Mrs. George B. Harvey, of No. 619 Parkwood avenue, Youngstown, Ohio, will interest many. She says:

"I was pale and weak and my blood was impoverished. My appetite was very poor, food distressed me and I often had nervous spells. I was subject to dizziness when every thing would turn black before my eyes. My heart would beat very fast when I went up stairs. I could not sleep. At night I had a dry hacking cough and became so thin and weak that I had no strength to do any work."

"One day I read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a paper and decided to give them a trial. After taking a few boxes I felt like a different person and took the pills until I recovered. I am glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any person suffering with anemia."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood and have transformed thousands of sick, grouchy, irritable, tired and nervous people into active, energetic, capable, efficient men and women. They will help you, too.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Price 50 cents. Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free book on the blood.

News of the Churches

All churches of Oakland were patriotically closed yesterday, but some congregations attended services in the open air.

At St. Mary's church mass was celebrated in the open air for the first time in nearly a century. A reminder of the early days in California, when outdoor services were the rule. The prayers at St. Mary's were for the fallen and the water who are carrying the standards of righteousness and freedom to a stricken people.

Rev. Bertram Conway, Paulist, gave a ten-minute sermon on the symbolism of the Catholic faith at the 10 o'clock mass. The mass itself was celebrated by Rev. Charles Phillips. Six masses were celebrated during the day in the open air, in conformity to the request of the city health department, which has closed all churches as a measure of public health protection.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN.
In the First Presbyterian church, Rev. Frank M. Sibley held services Sunday morning, preaching on the subject, "What We All Surely Believe." In his pre-sermon talk on "The Mourner's at the Grave," he said:

"Hail the peace talk, first with the war. Kaiserism is on its death-bed and who are the mourners? Belgian mothers and children who have suffered so keenly from Prussian frightfulness are not mourning. The people of France, whose cities have been desolated are not in tears over tottering Kaiserism. There are no tears in the eyes of loyal Americans and Americans. We should not feel regretful for what the hand of God has done. But there are dead hearts at the sick-bed of autocracy. The six injured sons of the Kaiser are grim and even though the masses of German people not carried away by the militarism-brainstorm are inwardly rejoicing. The Prussian tankers and profiteers are seeing indigo blue as they hear the death-rattle of Kaiserism. Germany is in a state of collapse. The heavy heart too. It is thinking of the lying propaganda that must now come to the aid of the Kaiser. The Kaiser is dying. But Kaiserism is dying and civilization is getting ready for a new birth hour."

PLYMOUTH CONGREGATIONAL.
Dr. C. L. Kloss of the Plymouth church sends out the following message to his people:

"Where are you going? asked an Oriental pilgrim in the Holy Land. 'I am going to Baghdad to kill 5000 people,' was the reply. A few weeks later the pilgrim met the same Oriental. 'You told me you were going to Baghdad to kill 5000 people,' said he, 'but instead you killed 5000.' 'No,' said the Pilgrim, 'I only killed 5000 as I said I would, the others died of fright.'"

"We are all liable to sickness, but apprehension and morbid fear kill oftener than disease. From childhood many are cursed with a ghostly train of dread anticipations and forebodings, made wretched by an unceasing ballet of grimacing skeletons."

"Try old Dr. Diet and Dr. Quiet. With simple menus, vigorous exercise, plenty of oxygen in the blood day and night, it is possible to prevent most epidemics. 'Couple sane hygiene with cheerful society, association with children, wholesome reading and a healthy optimism and be doubly forewarned.'"

In order to continue the Sunday school season of 77 scholars at the First Methodist church, Sunday school, Charles H. J. Truman, the superintendent, has inaugurated a mailing system of lessons.

Each scholar will receive a letter from Truman weekly in which the mutual selection of Bible, scriptural reading and instruction section will hold equal sway. The children will sing, what or how, and the children will read the scriptures and read the scriptures. The body of the lesson will tend to arouse any fear in the minds of the students caused by the so-called Spanish influenza epidemic. The lessons by mail will continue until the state board of health removes its ban on public assemblies.

Newspaper Man Passes Away; Son of Pioneer

ALFRED W. SMITH

Alfred Wesley Smith, Circulation Expert, Succumbs to Illness; With Tribune.

Alfred Wesley Smith, who for two years has been associated with the circulation department of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, died on Saturday night after a brief illness. The body was cremated this afternoon. Smith was born thirty years ago in San Francisco, was particularly well known in the eastern and of the county, where his work has taken him. He was educated in the local schools. Besides a widow, Mrs. Nellie Smith, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Jennie Smith Rowe of San Francisco. His father was the late M. A. Smith, a pioneer of California. Smith was widely known in newspaper circles, having before joining THE TRIBUNE staff been associated with several of the dailies across the bay.

THE PLAN OF SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR FRANKLIN K. LANE to rehabilitate returning members of the armed forces when peace is declared by the allotment of completely equipped farms in government reservations is beginning to take form, according to a telegram received by Director C. C. Moore of the State Council of Defense from Secretary Lane. This telegram follows:

"The committee on public lands of the Senate has unanimously reported in favor of bill appropriating a million dollars to make surveys of farms for returning soldiers. In this report the committee says the proposed legislation is for the purpose of providing an opportunity to procure homes for those of our returning soldiers and sailors who may wish them as well as giving opportunity to thousands of workers in munition factories and other war industries, who at the conclusion of the war will be out of employment, to promote a 'back to the land' movement."

"It is recognized that one of the great evils of the times in our country is the over-crowding and congestion of people in the cities, many of whom are utterly unfitted for city life and not adapted to the application thereof and after the war will be out of employment, to promote a 'back to the land' movement."

"Further, there will be hundreds of thousands of young men who will have returned from service in our army and navy, who will be out of employment, and for whom there will be no jobs or positions. All of the above described classes of people will be needed on the land. The land will need them and they will need the land. It is the object of this proposed legislation to provide them with an opportunity of settling on the land. Furthermore, the undertaking which this proposed legislation contemplates is embarked upon by the government would afford employment to thousands of men at the termination of the war when there will be a scarcity of employment in this country and when the tide will be clamoring for work."

CAN NOW EAT AND SLEEP IN COMFORT.

If troubled with indigestion or sleepless nights, you should try what Mrs. Agnes Turner, Chicago, Ill., has to say: "Overwork, irregular meals and carelessness regarding the ordinary rules of health, gradually undermined it until last fall became a wreck of my former self. I suffered from continual headache, was unable to digest my food, on my stomach, I was very constipated and my complexion became dark, yellow and green. I felt sleepless and was added to my misery, and I would awake as tired as when I went to sleep. I heard of Chamberlain's Tablets and found such relief after taking them that I kept up the treatment for nearly two months. They cleaned my stomach, invigorated my system, and since that time I can eat and sleep in comfort. I am today entirely well. For sale by Dr. Good Bros. Drug Stores—Advertisement."

"OVER THE TOP."

Latest reports indicate that the Fourth Liberty Loan bond issue of six billion dollars has been oversubscribed. It was a performance in which the nation may take justifiable pride. This is the largest loan ever floated in this or any other nation. It has been taken up by the people without drawing perceptibly upon the resources of the banks. At the same time a new American record has been reached in the matter of distribution and in the per capita loaning performance of the people.

Floating of the huge loan was not difficult, as attested by the fact that it was done within three weeks. But on the other hand it was not what could be correctly termed an easy task. It required earnest efforts on the part of the campaign managers and the fullest cooperation of the people, dictated by patriotic as well as business considerations. At one time the prospect of success was not at all encouraging and many localities were in doubt as to their ability to meet the task assigned them. But in the final test nearly all were apparently equal to the emergency and today we can rejoice over the fact that another heavy blow has been struck the enemy.

Every Alameda county district went "over the top" in a handsome manner. Oakland, with an allotment of over $13,000,000, equaled its fine showing in the last Red Cross drive and previous Liberty loans.

There were circumstances that worked against the loan and which makes its success the more remarkable and gratifying. In the first place, the passage of the new draft law, extending the ages of military liability to eighteen and forty-five left many men in doubt as to their ability, and the wisdom of incurring obligations. They were not sure they could afford to purchase bonds on the installment plan. Then, disregarding the appeal of the President, Congress has failed to pass the war revenue bill, which leaves business still in doubt as to the amount of taxes to be levied for the present calendar year. This left business concerns in doubt as to the amount they could safely venture in bond investments. Another circumstance that militated against the loan for awhile was the German effort. Happily, however, the enemy was quickly overcome and America got back to an American viewpoint of the Liberty Loan. In addition the influenza epidemic was an element of interference.

But despite all these obstacles, the loan went over. Overcoming of all the difficulties is an added cause for elation at home and for serious thinking in the ranks of the enemy. America has given another unmistakable answer to the intrigues of Berlin.

The account of the singing Unter den Linden of the Marseillaise by independent socialists leaves something to be desired in the way of amplification. If such a performance is possible in the innermost sanctuary of Hunsdom there is at least a relaxation of the usual ruthless suppression of things that heretofore have been verboten. When it is added that it required a police effort to prevent the crowd reaching the Imperial palace the presumption is strengthened that the rigidity of control is cracking. This would not be a surprise, though it is always to be remembered that there is an adherence to the kaiser that will stave off the overt thing long after it would happen with another people. There is also the utter unreliability of any report emanating from Berlin.

Germany, according to the faithful and favorite war "correspondents" of the kaiser at the time, invented invincible super-Zeppelins, invincible super-airplanes, invincible super-cannon and an invincible super-impenetrable defense line. Now she is down to the common trick of seeking a peace that will save a part of her super-sensitive skin.

All who may have felt a worry about a cranberry famine through press reports of a scarcity of the fruit and lack of help to gather it are reassured by an announcement of the American Cranberry Exchange. It tells how many tumbler of jelly can be made from a "peck" of the fruit. There are well populated regions where they know what is meant by a peck, and even have apparatus to determine the amount, but Californians will have to reduce the quantity to some other measurement before proceeding in accordance with the advice. But it is pleasant news that there is not to be a shortage in cranberries.

"THEY OBJECT TO THE TONE."

The American people did not enter the great war merely because they loved France, and honored Italy, and felt the ties of kinship calling us to the side of Britain. We joined the Entente Allies and entered the contest which Germany forced upon us, in order to defend our national honor, our national rights and the citizens and land of America from attack by a predatory enemy. Our alliance with England and France and Italy was an incident of the contest rather than its original purpose.

In the war into which the Kaiser forced us Germany can shake no gory locks at us. To our claim that under the law of nations our ships were entitled to sail upon the ocean without molestation from German submarines the Hohenzollern replied: "The law of nations does not require Germany to respect the rights of the United States and, anyway, the exigency is such that Germany will obey no law. If you wish your ships not to be sunk and your citizens not to be murdered, keep them off the ocean."

What answer should we have made to this insolent defiance of public law and insult to our country, in order to please American pacifists and Teuton maniacs? Should our President have placed his hand on his mouth and his mouth to the dust and assured the Kaiser that the right of a neutral to navigate the high seas without molestation from a belligerent was a Saurian of the Paleozoic age of international law, and quite unfit to live if "me unt Gott" desired it to die?

That government which will not, when able, protect its citizens is not fit to live. And it cannot determine whether it will give protection by the number and character of citizens assaulted and property destroyed, for an assault upon one citizen, whether on land or sea, is an assault upon all.

This is the basic theory of civilized government. Knowing war to be terrible and acting in defense of national rights and honor, our government, although unafraid, humanely hoped to continue peace until hope vanished with the return of German treachery and murder.

The Kaiser misook our patience for pusillanimity. Because we were forbearing he thought we were fearful. He believed that the German forces could resume their murderous practices and go on interminably with their campaign of frightfulness.

The Kaiser, while asserting that he would not make war upon us, was making war on us, the while he feigned non-combatancy in a vain effort to stir up anti-war sentiment in our land.

The Hohenzollern autocrat has utterly and hopelessly destroyed the kindly feeling which, before the war, the American people entertained for Germany. He has made the beds of ocean sepulchres for hundreds of American men, women and children who were murdered by his submarines. Even when we were at peace he sought to create treason and sedition among our people. He planted spies in every city and town in our land. He employed men who dynamited our factories and blew up our homes. He violated ever principle and practice of humanity, cancelled every pledge made to us, assassinated our citizens and practiced every foul fraud and shift subterfuge interdicted by international law and common humanity.

He is the menace of mankind, the peace disturber of the world, the assassin of twentieth century civilization. When Colonel Henry Watterson wrote "to hell with Hohenzollern," he uttered a noble sentiment.

Congress is to adjourn until after the November election, which verifies the Tribune's prediction that the revenue bill would not be passed before election. Is politics really adjourned?

A COMEDY OF PROSECUTIONS.

The Attorney General announces further postponement of the government's suits for the dissolution of the trusts, without whose aid it could not prosecute the war advantageously any more than modern business could be done under economic conditions in either peace or war. It seems that the government has no standard of business morals for war and another for peace, just as it has one standard for domestic trade and another for foreign trade. Moreover, the government has one standard for itself and another for the trusts, for the government is now arranging the stabilization of the price of coffee, although it scolded Brazil for valorizing coffee. The difference between stabilizing and valorizing is the difference between cooperating and scolding.

Simultaneously a special United States attorney secures the indictment of something less than a score of tobacco dealers. There is no assumption of the innocence of the alleged tobacco conspirators in the suggestion that the federal attorneys of Washington and New York ought to get together. Either all trusts ought to be prosecuted or all trust prosecutions ought to be adjourned along with politics until after the war.

Of the many defendants, one at least asks for no favors and wants to know its rights. All the defendant trusts but the Steel Trust are willing to be let go, Dogberry thinking the stars that he is rid of rascals. But the Steel Trust asks to be prosecuted. Laughter is at the idea of the government dissolving the Steel Trust now. It is facetious at the idea of compelling the guilty to avail the application of the law until the time more convenient for the prosecutor. It is up to the idea of the idea of "busting" one trust and letting other trusts go and sin at will. Wars can play no such tricks with the common law. All these smarting defendants if the prosecutors could grasp the idea that the Sherman law is a statement of the common law, and not a repeal or revolution of the common law. The common law is the same in war and peace. New York Times

NOTES and COMMENT

Tourists who will take satisfaction in learning that Ostend has reverted to the Belgians without the usual devastations that mark the presence of the Huns. It is a city that lies in the path of the globe trotter, and is perhaps more familiar to him than any other excepting Paris and London.

Anyhow, we will have opportunity to rest up, and when things are permitted to open up again we are likely to have a new zest for the movies. They were crowding us pretty hard, making it quite an effort to keep up.

Here is where the Red Cross comes in. Cold-blooded as it may seem, there are attempts to profiteer in "flu" remedies. The Red Cross has taken the matter in hand, and publishes the fair price remedies.

Those who supposed the Huns had given over their predilection to devastation were hasty. They are reported as about to inundate the lowlands of Belgium. It will do immense damage to a stricken country, and it ought to be laid up as one of the things that will have to be compensated when the books are squared.

Progress does not seem to have been made to the extent desired in preventing or mitigating forest fires. The recent one in the region of Duluth, Minnesota, was by far the most disastrous that has occurred for years.

A conviction has been obtained in the prosecution of the New York contractors who swindled the government in army raincoats. The garments that were intended for the protection of the boys over there fell to pieces on being lifted. Not likely to be a widespread agitation to get the guilty off from punishment.

There is unanimity of opinion that the German retreat—they call it retirement—is orderly. They like to refer to it as "marching," and there is shortly to be so much else to discuss that there is not much use of getting into an argument over it.

The Czechs seem to be a considerable force once they get started. They are reported to be in full motion now, and their activity is falling far short of relieving the imperial situation at Vienna.

Hoover's barber dies at Palo Alto of the prevailing influenza. Verily, the affliction is no respecter of those who have served the great.

Lima, Peru, fell in line and subscribed for $50,000 in bonds. It is evidence of an improved feeling between the United States and the South American countries when they send us real money like that.

It is a fact that there is no widespread feeling in this country, or as far as can be ascertained, in any of the allied countries, that the allies should proceed tenderly now, in high fear of hurting the Hun sensibilities.

If there is any comfort in the idea that misery loves company, the fact that there are 200,000 cases of the "flu" in Buenos Aires is interesting. The large number suggests that vigorous measures to ward it off have not been taken as has been the case here.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The recent storms which seem to have damaged the railroads to such an extent have apparently had an opposite effect upon the green grapes, for the shipping of this fruit unusual export. Lucerne vineyard is this line, carloads of Malaga being sent out every day, and the growers are getting fabulous prices for them in the East.—Hanford Sentinel.

Kern county candidates have appealed to the district attorney to break up the practice of defacing their signs. Doubtless they are right. When some youth with a mistaken sense of humor decorates for the candidate a handsome face of the candidate for constable or coroner with luxurious pencils and whisks or cuts out his nose, the defendant of the landscape is indeed increased. But since the candidates have been aroused to an appreciation of the injury done to the public morals by this defacement of the beauty of the scenery, would it not be well for them to consider also other aspects of the case? It is perhaps asking too much that they should refrain from tacking up their own faces on every telegraph pole, palm tree and fence posts in the county. These posts and palms were, to be sure, not so beautiful before, but no man can be expected to realize that where his face is concerned.—Fresno Republican.

GOING HOME WITH A VENGEANCE!

DRIVING OUT THE TURK

The magnificent victories of the British forces under General Allenby in the Holy Land give timely interest to a war geography bulletin issued today by the National Geographic Society from its Washington headquarters. The bulletin, which is based on a communication to the society from William H. Hall, says:

"Where Turkey joins to Egypt is Palestine. No spot on earth in all the world bears such memories for so many and such a variety of peoples as the rugged mountain slopes, narrow valleys, and half desert wastes of Judea and Galilee. Beer-sheba, Hebron, Bethlehem, Nazareth, Jerusalem—the mere mention of these names tells the story of Abraham and Moses and David, of the prophets of Israel and of the Son of Kings.

"The population of the Ottoman empire, not including Arabia, is about 18,000,000, or was before the war. In giving statistics on any subject regarding Turkey one speaks in approximate terms, for only estimates can be given, as no thorough census is taken or other statistics systematically gathered. Among the various races this total was distributed as follows: Turks, 7,000,000; Syrians and Arabs, 4,500,000; Kurds, 2,000,000; Armenians, 2,000,000; Greeks, 1,500,000; Jews, 500,000; other races, 500,000.

All at these peoples can trace their history back to the period when the empire was a blend with the beginnings of historic fact. And all, except the Turks, have inhabited from time immemorial, the districts in which they are now found.

"These races represent the three great monotheistic religions, which have also originated within the boundaries of the Turkish empire. About two-thirds of the entire population are Mohammedans, but of different sects. The Christians, also, are divided into many sects, representing nearly all the great divisions of the church.

"The Christian races are the most progressive part of the population; they have been most responsive to education and have made some progress in establishing schools of their own. The Turks are the most backward of all; yet under proper encouragement and facilities they are capable of good progress. In competition with Greeks, Armenians and Syrians, however, they invariably fall behind.

"It should be noted that of 48 grand viziers who have risen to prominence within the past four centuries, those whose names would be in history's Who's Who, only 12 have been Turks; all the others were either of Greek or Armenian origin.

AUSTRIA, THE WICKED PARTNER.

There is not the slightest reason why the allies should feel more tender toward the Austrian Government than toward the German Government. Which was the leader and which the follower in planning the war they may dispute among themselves; what concerns us is that they acted as a unit in bringing it on.

Austria, in fact, was chosen, for strategic reasons, to strike the first blow, and there is not the slightest evidence that it acted in unwillingly; its share in the guilt is not a shade less than Germany's.

Nor has its conduct of the war been on a higher plane. Its treatment of Serbia was, if possible, worse than Germany's treatment of Belgium; it has bombed Venice as Germany has bombed Paris and London.

In the Machiavellian intrigues conducted in this country there was no choice between Dr. Dumba and Count Bernstorff. In the plot against Russia, Austria took a hand with Germany, and it is still trying to get Russian Poland as an offset to Germany's annexation of the Baltic provinces.

After promising, when the prom-

THE TRENCH SHOTGUN.

The main untruth in the German protest against the use of the trench shotgun is the statement that "the use of such weapons is forbidden by the Hague convention as causing unnecessary suffering." The Hague convention forbids the use of weapons which cause unnecessary suffering, but this arm is not among them. The trench shotgun does not shoot the fire shot usually associated with fowling pieces. The shells are loaded with nine rough bullets of the largest buckshot size. Their diameter is about that of a .32 caliber bullet. At forty yards one of these pellets will go through a pine board two inches thick or a German skull of average thickness. The weapon is not a toy. It is intended to kill or to stop, but it is no more cruel than any other weapon of war. It is, in effect, a small machine gun that fires nine bullets at each explosion. These are so scattered that unless the range was very close, almost hand to hand, not more than one bullet would reach the oncoming German.—New York Sun.

THE WORK OF THE HUN.

By ADIGAIL STACKPOLE.
Night shifting, the stars were out in No Man's Land; With pincers and pliers I kept at the wires, Despite the wound in my hand. Wind was sweeping—it seemed Across the face of the dead. My blood, it thickened; my senses sickened; But felt no fear or dread. Shells were crashing, they'd been lashing My comrades till they died— "The hope of nations and of generations— Those boys, the Allies' pride. Amidst the humming and the whizzing Of shells about my head I resolved: I'd avenge my comrades, The dying and the dead!"

My trench, the finding and imparting Of information gained, Was slow and cautious crawling Amongst the dead and maimed.

When I was feeling long and afeeling Beside shell hole and found, My heart suddenly ceased its beating, For I felt a quake of the ground.

With eyes unseeing came a mingling Of moisture and of earth, Dripped from knee and shoulder (blood!) War's first death and dearth.

Of the telling, I'm not rebelling; Base hospital, Blighty, nurses, In their order came— To a breathing stump of Boche corpses.

With a pitying glance, the living Look on me in my bed— A thing without sight or limbs, A soul of the living dead.

You see us smiling, the dead and dying; True Allies, every one. On With Democracy! Down with Autocracy! We crush the unspeakable Hun!

"USE GAUZE," IS PLEA OF DR. CROSBY

Wearing a gauze mask, Dr. Daniel Crosby, city health director, appeared before the city council today to urge that all city employees, all clerks in stores and shops, and all persons traveling on street cars, or delivering goods in homes, should wear the new influenza masks.

"Masks are our most efficient means of stamping out this disease," said Dr. Crosby. "That is why I am wearing one. They afford 90 per cent protection. In the hospital which instituted the use of masks immediately there have been almost no cases of Spanish influenza among the attendants. In those which failed to do so, the disease has spread quickly."

The Municipal Auditorium was today turned over by the city to the health department as a temporary hospital. The top floor of the Municipal Woodward Lodging House has also been placed in the hands of the health authorities for the isolation of male cases of Spanish influenza, which could not be cared for at the city jail.

WILL PLACE BEDS. One hundred beds will be placed in the Municipal Auditorium. A committee of physicians inspected the building today and found it was ideally arranged for their purposes, there being kitchen and washrooms and sanitary conveniences on hand, and plenty of light and air. The physicians are calling for volunteer workers, and declare that with proper precautions, the building can be made the healthiest place in the city.

"Keep Moving" signs are to be posted in the streets, and police officers have been ordered to break up crowds and to keep persons in the streets moving.

The council also today authorized the flushing of the downtown streets with salt water by the fire department, using the high pressure salt water system. The sewers are also to be flushed out with salt water. The work will be done at night, and will be a health measure of great value, clearing away the filth, and the result of excretion in the streets.

Dr. O. D. Hamlin, member of the County Institutions Commission, but acting independently of the commission, applied to the county supervisors today for an appropriation of money with which to fight the influenza. The board authorized him to use the county institutions in any manner he deemed necessary, and to spend up to $1000 for supplies and assistance, assuring him that an additional amount would be provided if necessary.

Dr. Hamlin told the board that the physicians of the county are devoting all their time to the emergency, abandoning almost all their office practice, and that they are receiving more calls on account of the scourge than they can find time to report.

He expressed the opinion that the situation is more serious than is generally realized, and that the public should observe every manner of precaution, of which the health department, to prevent its further spread. Emergency appropriation of $499 by the city council, and $1000 by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors were asked today. The council granted the appropriation, and will make a second appropriation from the contingency fund if necessary. The supervisors granted the appropriation of $1000 asked.

KEEP WINDOWS OPEN. Orders to keep the windows open in street cars and trains were issued today. General Manager W. R. Alberger of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad, reported that the cars were having difficulty seeing that the order was enforced, and that he had stated upon closing the windows. Posters declaring that the windows are being kept open by order of the Board of Health will be placed in the cars, and drastic measures will be taken against those attempting to prevent enforcement of the regulation.

The total number of cases in Oakland up to noon today was 258, and there had been thirty deaths from pneumonia and Spanish influenza. The death rate for the past week was the highest in the history of the city, according to Chief Clerk John Mellon of the health department.

Dr. Crosby, the city health officer, said that while the number of cases reported today was greater than at any previous day, a large part of the increase was due to the delay in reporting cases which had developed on Sunday. He said that he thought that the general condition of Oakland is being checked to a degree that is keeping it from actually increasing, and which will make possible the report in a few days that it is on the decrease.

NO NEED OF PANIC. "There is no occasion for panic," Dr. Crosby declared. "There is occasion for taking every possible precaution. Persons who are wise will wear the gauze masks when they go upon the streets or in any way expose themselves. This means more than 90 per cent protection, and is better than all the remedies that may be administered after the infection is in the system."

"The greatest problem is to induce the people to take the necessary precautions. As soon as we can do this

Oakland Rallies Health Experts to Fight Malady; Auditorium to Be Hospital

Municipal Buildings to Augment Infirmary Facilities; Red Cross Is Enlisted in Work; "Masks" Appearing

Arrangements for converting either the Oakland Municipal Auditorium or the municipal woodward lodging house into a temporary hospital for the treatment of Spanish influenza cases were being made by the city authorities this morning when it was found that the number of cases which have been forced upon the public had increased so rapidly that there was no room for them in the Alameda county infirmary. The hospitals are declining to admit influenza cases, excepting where there is dire extremity. It is held that the acceptance of these contagious disease cases endangers the other patients and the already crowded staffs available.

CASES IN OAKLAND MORE THAN 1300. The number of influenza cases in Oakland had risen today to more than 1300, and the number of deaths were reported. It is declared by the health authorities, however, that the precautions which are being taken are gradually checking the spread of the disease, and it is hoped that within a few days the climax will have been reached and the number of cases begin to reduce. This has already been the case in Southern California.

The aid of the Red Cross has been invoked by the Associated Charities to care for the cases which have occurred in indigent families. These piled up so fast that the Associated Charities could not cope with the situation and the appeal for aid was made to the Oakland Chapter of the Red Cross. Nurses were not available from any other source.

MANY ARE WEARING MASKS. The appearance of "flu" masks on the street today created some comment, but the advice of the state department of health that persons compelled to travel on street cars should wear the gauze masks is beginning to be sporadically followed. Clerks in department stores, hotels, post-offices and other places are also wearing masks in some parts of Oakland.

The elimination of the saloons from the list of places closed by the order of the city council, together with the closing of theaters and other places of amusement, brought close to a record number of arrests for drunkenness in Oakland between Saturday and Monday. There were 77 cases on the calendars in the local police courts this morning. Commissioner Hamlin had included saloons in the list of places to be closed, but these were later eliminated when the proclamation was made from the mayor's office, although poolrooms, which had been added to the San Francisco list, were included in the banned list.

DEATHS REPORTED IN EASTBAY CITIES. The list of deaths from influenza reported in the Eastbay cities included that of James Robert Westhead, assistant cashier of the Security Bank, 113 East Thirty-third street; Mrs. Florence Ferro, wife of Thomas Ferro, business agent of the Oakland Scavenger Association; William B. Wilcox, 42, living at 24 Oak street; Alexandra; Josephine Schacht, 11, living with her parents at Peach and High streets; Alameda; Flores L. Pattee, sophomore at the University of California and instructor in swimming there, 2336 McKinley avenue, Berkeley.

Ethel M. Burk, an Oakland nurse, died at Camp Fremont yesterday of the disease, which she had contracted while attending soldiers.

Joseph H. King, executive chairman of the Liberty loan committee of Oakland, went to bed yesterday with a bad cold and fever. His case we can check and stamp out the disease.

"One trouble we have been experiencing is where all the members of a family are taken with influenza, and there is no one to attend upon them. It is to meet this situation that the Auditorium is to be used, and we hope to have accommodations there in use before tonight."

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Frank Morse and the emergency committee of physicians have requested that the saloons, as well as the places listed in the closing proclamation issued by Mayor John L. Davis, shall close their doors. An official order in this regard has been issued.

PHONE SERVICE CRIPPLED. The telephone service of Oakland was badly crippled today by the Spanish influenza situation, two score or more of the girl operators remaining away from work on this account. School nurses and school authorities are co-operating in fighting the epidemic.

Deaths from Spanish influenza and pneumonia reported to the health department in Oakland today included the following: Anna Kovacevich, 28, Pacific hospital; Alice J. Harris, 35, 410 Adeline; Sadie Drabin, 34, 1722 Adeline street; Lucia Caponia, 1170 Fifth street; Ira A. Swann, 38, 3557 Howe st.; Emma Smith, 5, 521 Fallon street; John Kennedy, 27, Providence hospital; Dorothy Kelly, 2, 775 Twenty-third avenue.

has not yet been diagnosed as influenza. His fellow workers said that his condition was the result of overwork during the campaign. Reports from his home at 149 Grand avenue today indicate that County Clerk George D. Gross, victim of Spanish influenza, is improving, but that the condition of his son, Stephen George Gross, is serious.

County Clerk Gross was at the shooting club near Cymus last week, returning Wednesday. Thursday and Friday he was at his office, but complained of indisposition, and Saturday morning he was confined to bed.

RICHMOND, Oct. 21.—This city passed into the second week of the closing of saloons today as a means of stamping out the influenza epidemic. Three deaths were reported yesterday from the disease and statistics for the spread of the disease today are being gathered by the health office.

The fatalities were: Mrs. Minnie Hutton, 418 South Twelfth street; Joseph Bell, 1240 Broadway; and Mrs. Hazel S. Hansen, 619 Potrero. The funeral of Norman O'Hara, a victim of the influenza, was held this afternoon.

Physicians said that the number of those who are ill does not warrant any let-up in the precautions being observed.

EL CERRITO SALOONS CLOSED. Following a conference between the city trustees of El Cerrito and County Officer Charles R. Blake, the saloons and cafes in El Cerrito have closed their doors pending the cleaning up of the influenza epidemic. The entire western end of the city is now as dry as a proverbial bone.

It is understood that local saloonmen are to petition the council to allow them to open to sell package goods, but to dispose of drinks to be consumed in the saloons where sold.

CRITICISM BRINGS DAVE TO PROTEST. Resolutions condemning the Oakland Enquirer for its editorial policy in attacking the council order closing theaters and saloons on account of the epidemic of Spanish influenza were adopted by a unanimous vote of the city council today. The resolutions were offered by John L. Davis and were transmitted with a letter from the mayor calling attention to the action of the newspaper.

THE MAYOR'S LETTER FOLLOWS: "To the Honorable City Council, City of Oakland, California. Gentlemen: With the instruction and sanction from your honorable body I issued the proclamation which closed all public amusement gatherings and urged the people to take all precautions to prevent the spreading of the influenza epidemic, which is taking many lives each day."

"In the Oakland Enquirer, the newspaper which has the contract for the city's printing, my proclamation was printed with the following editorial note in conclusion:

"Conditions in Oakland are declared to be better than any city on the coast. The proclamation issued today seems to be entirely unnecessary. A new health officer was appointed today. That may account for the drastic order issued. It is to be regretted that the Mayor saw fit to capitulate just when he was being contumacious for the fine way in which he was handling the situation. The Enquirer does not propose to scare the people to death. This is a clean, normal city."

Editor of the Enquirer. "Such an uncalled for editorial does a great deal of damage besides being a direct insult to the city council, but to the Federal and State authorities who recommended this action."

"The newspaper which this Council selects to do the city's printing is expected to show better judgment and heartier co-operation with the official actions, especially when they come recommended by the highest authorities and seek to prevent the spreading of a dreadful epidemic which threatens to interfere with our great war program."

"Such a note makes light of the action of this Council and the recommendations of the State and Federal health authorities and comes from a regrettable ignorance of existing conditions or an actual contumacious attitude which demands an official answer from this Council."

"To this end I introduce the following resolutions condemning the man responsible for the editorial note in the Enquirer which sought to detract from the sincere efforts of this Council to protect the health of the people of this city, a responsibility which no newspaper editor can carry."

"Yours very truly, JOHN L. DAVIS, Mayor of the City of Oakland. COUNCIL'S RESOLUTION. The resolution follows: "Resolution condemning the editor of the Oakland Enquirer for the note published on Friday, October 18, contradicting the advice of State, Federal and municipal authorities and printing the editorial action as foolish and unwarranted."

"Whereas, in the Oakland Enquirer of October 18 there appeared an editorial note declaring to the people that the health of the city is in no danger from the influenza epidemic which is taking many lives out of the city, and

"Whereas, this Council authorized the proclamation issued by Mayor Davis upon the advice of State and Federal authorities, threatening the editor of the Enquirer for his uncalled for and inappropriate note, and he further resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the editor of the Enquirer and spread upon the minutes of this Council."

Prisoners Volunteer Will Help "Flu" Work. A score of women confined in the city jail on charges of vagrancy, volunteered today to assist in fighting Spanish influenza, and had their services accepted by the health department. They will be put to work making beds, scrubbing floors, washing and doing other work at the temporary hospital installed in the municipal auditorium.

The women were placed on parole after a conference between the health and police authorities, and instructed to report to the health department for instruction and orders.

The necessity of having the women removed from the jail had become apparent before they volunteered. A case of influenza had been reported there, and the other women were being exposed to the disease. The women gladly accepted the health service.

HASSLER URGES S. F. INTO MASKS. A number of Berkeley's shops, closed on Sunday, today cited the example set by the University of California and ordered the wearing of masks by employees. All students and faculty members at the university today appeared at their classes with the gauze coverings over their noses and mouths, more than 700 masks having been made by members of the university's Red Cross auxiliary.

Due to the increased influenza cases a second barracks today was closed at the University of California. Company E of the students' training army, former occupants of the barracks, is now quartered in the main building of the university. A partial quarantine of members of the S. A. T. C. to prevent any of the students leaving the barracks for the streets, is being considered by military authorities.

In keeping with the order of the health officials Berkeley's population did their shopping at home, and no business services of any kind being allowed in the city. The schools of the city remained closed today, while all poolrooms came under the ban of the health officials.

"Do not throw your influenza mask away after one wearing," advised the health officials. The health department of the local Red Cross. "It may be boiled or otherwise sterilized after each wearing."

ALAMEDA "CLOSED." ALAMEDA, Oct. 21.—In compliance with the proclamation of City Manager Charles B. Hewes, closing any and all places where crowds are gathered, the only source of entertainment to be found in the city yesterday was Neptune beach. While this place had a goodly crowd, the children were warned to keep away from the beach. Parents have been cautioned by the school board to refrain from letting the youngsters get together in neighborhood gangs, as this is considered a breeding ground for the spread of the epidemic. The Alameda draft board today is having its force don masks, as no place of business in the city has so many dangers to all conditions of health appearing at its office. All physicians of the city are being taxed to the utmost in handling the cases of influenza victims throughout Alameda. The draft board was compelled to cancel all physical examination for the selective men which had been scheduled to be held this week. The physicians were not able to spare time from the Spanish influenza cases to tend to other business. All orders sending men to camp are cancelled until the epidemic has been brought under control. The Alameda draft board has to dispose of its usual rule of closing at 9 each night and remain open till a much later hour, as the call for influenza prevention is all but exhausted the supply on hand.

should wear a gauze mask when on the public street. This is imperative. So far the public is not demonstrating its willingness to cooperate in checking this epidemic. If the citizens were to display their present lack of precaution we can look for a tremendous increase in the number of influenza cases and in the total deaths. I say this with all seriousness."

"Let us make the gauze mask popular. Make it a badge to wear them upon the streets. Instead of the person wearing one being an object of curiosity, let us shame those who refuse to take this necessary precaution into objects of scorn."

NEW MODES HALT SPREAD OF MALADY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—In an effort to check the ravages of Spanish influenza among the Washington war workers, all automobile owners were ordered today to carry such workers in their cars. Empty auto seats were ordered filled from the crowds on the street corners. By this action officials said 25,000 workers had been taken from the street cars, thus eliminating congestion and corresponding danger of infection.

Bernard Daily, of Toledo, O., noted in Ohio political circles, is dead here of influenza. He was an intimate friend of Brand Whitlock and Secretary of War Baker. His body will be taken to Ohio for burial.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 21.—With everything all set today for hundreds of meetings in all parts of Ohio to open the short campaign preceding the election in Ohio on November 5, leaders of both parties have been forced to cancel most of the gatherings on account of the influenza epidemic which is sweeping the State. Some outdoor meetings will be held, but the larger gatherings will be postponed for a week at least and may have to be given up entirely.

He will elect a governor this fall, a campaign where ticket and Representatives in Congress will decide the wet-dry question. The last-named matter is attracting more attention than any other, with the possible exception of the choice for governor.

BRUTALITY OF HUNS IS TOLD IN FREED TOWNS

LONDON, Oct. 21 (British Admiralty Wireless).—From all quarters of the world reports have been under the heel of the enemy come stories of brutality toward helpless women and children, and of provisions intended for their help and other acts of savagery.

Telegrams arriving in London from the British proof of the outrages committed by the Germans in their retreat from Flanders. The enemy set fire to houses in several places and the roads were infested by inhabitants left heart-rendering stories of pillage and violence and say that at the end the Germans stole their food and to force them to consent to quit their homes.

Italian Deserter and German Sentenced

ZURICH, Oct. 21.—(British wireless service).—Ludov Andreie, a deserter from the Italian army, and Adolph Englemann, a German communist, have been found guilty in the Swiss courts of having in their possession bombs, infernal machines and revolutionary pamphlets for use in Italy. Englemann was sentenced to two and half years' imprisonment, to pay a fine of 5000 francs and expulsion from Switzerland for life. Andreie received twenty months in prison, a fine of 1000 francs and expulsion.

Two revolutionary pamphlets found in the shop were printed at the office of La Paix in Berlin. La Paix is a pacifist organ directed by Herr Haerger, the German central leader without portfolio, appointed minister of Prince Maximilian.

Wall-Street Trading Stronger

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Trading on the Stock Exchange today opened with another substantial demonstration of strength, the list showing no indication of last Saturday's abrupt reaction. Mexican Petroleum was again the spectacular feature, soon gaining 10½ points and as suddenly losing all its rise. United States Steel, however, was one of the few issues rose one to two points. The movement of stocks was more definitely defined in the following:

General Motors—Advanced 7½ points, but lost all its gain in the afternoon. Southern Pacific—Advanced 6½ points, but lost all its gain in the afternoon. United States Steel—Advanced 1 point, but lost all its gain in the afternoon. Mexican Petroleum—Advanced 10½ points, but lost all its gain in the afternoon.

CLOSING—United States Steel and General Motors were the most active issues, especially the former. The closing was irregular. Sales approximately 1,100,000 shares.

OGDEN PENS FAREWELL ON HIS DEATHBED

A letter written by the late Judge Frank B. Ogden to the Board of Supervisors and read at the meeting today, indicates that as early as May 6, when it was written, the judge did not expect to live. The letter was written from the Merritt Hospital and enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked to be opened in case of his death. It is from
